From the Mountain Democrat, Nov. 8 by an overwhelming majority protested against straight Republicanism. He is but a blind and stupid politiciau who Gosos, the Scottish painter, use to tell this story of Lord Palmerston: "I had stableted for several years, but without I asked. 'That there should be such long grass in the field where there are so many sheep, 'said his lordship, promptly, and with a merry twinkle of the eye. It was a decided hit this; and, having bought the picture and paid for it, he was entitled to his joke. 'How do you secount for it?' he went on, smiling, and looking first at the picture and then at me. 'Those sheep,' my lord,' I replied, were only turned into that field the night before I finished the picture.' His lordship laughed heartily, and said 'Bravo' at my reply, and gave me a commission and langhed heartily, and said Dravo at my reply, and gave me a commission for two more pictures; and I have cashed since then some very notable cheques of his—dear old boy!"

The War-Dance in a Chicago Hotel.
The proprietors of the Sherman House at Chicago have been importing fun into their hotel, in the shape of a squad of Crow Indians. The Times says that these red-skins were invited to the clubroom of the hotel, a few evenings ago, where a crowd of ladies and gentlemen had assembled. The Indians were satisfied to occupy one corner of the room; the others, native and foreign, took up the centre, left for a war dance. Led by the great chiefs, Blackfoot, Iron Bull, Long Horse, Thiu Belly and Bear Wolf, the Indians sang several love songs, THE WAR-DANCE IN A CHICAGO HOTEL formed a circle in the centre of the room, stood close together and then black-guarded their enemy, whom they had just vanquished, in the liveliest manner. The song received an encore. At this moment "Long John" Wentworth entered the room, and was instantly surrounded by the chiefs. They looked at him in woodering amazement, and Thin Belly called him Mi-Tee-Big-Cus, which signifies the large tree of the forest. Before the honorable gentleman could escaps one, and while they went round and round, dancing, hopping and chanting, "Long John" was the picture of despondency. It was the first ring that he was ever in which he disliked.

MISPLACED CHARITY. — Some time since we made mention of a gambler of this city descriting his wife and family, and leaving them in destitute circumstances; and of some benevolent ladies who took the wife and children in charge and provided for them. Now we have a sequel almost, if not quite, as interesting as the original. Night before last two gentlemen called at the place where the stricken family were boarding, and hearing their pathetic story, very generously she had friends who would care for her. Early yesterday morning the lady left, and in her haste, did not settle a board bill, and the general supposition, well founded, is that she intends meeting her husband at Ogden, and dividing with him the spoils obtained through the excellent part she has played, as an object of charity. Truly this is a most systematic fraud, and enough to cause the benevolently inclined to entirely change their nature.—[Salt Lake Tribune. ASSAYER. OFFICE: MEADOW VALLEY STREET, OPPOSITE

COALITION RUMORS. Recently a report was set afloat by a Sacramento paper of railroad Republican prodictivities, to the effect that there is to be a coalition between the Democrats and the regular Republicans with reference to the organization of the Senate and Assimbly at the forthcoming session. This rumor has been kindly received and coddled by Republican papers of a certain class throughout the State, and we regret to see that it is noticed not unkindly by some papers of Democratic leanings. One report is to the effect that there is to be an equal division between the straight Republicans and straight Democratic officers and attaches, provided they, the straight Republicans, will vote for a full set of Democratic officers and attaches, provided they, the straight Republicans, are permitted to single out the Democratics who are to be elected. We take the liberty of asserting that the Democratic Assemblymen from this county will grossly misrepresent these who elected them if they experient. that the Democratic Assemblymen from this county will grossly misrepresent those who elected them if they enter into a coalition with the straight Republicans on either of the above conditions. Moreover, we feel equally safe in asserting that neither of the four Democratic Assemblymen from El Dorado will become parties to any such coalition on those or any similar conditions. Whatever difference of the conditions of the co opinion may exist as to the import of the late elections, there can be no gainsay-ing the fact that those elections here and

ing the fact that those elections here and everywhere, have been full of emphatic protest against straight Republicanism. Between the Democrats and the Independents there has been hearty accord in the expressing of that protest. The people, including those who have voted the Democratic and those who have voted the Independent tickets, have been according to an overwhelming majority protested. fancies that this protest was merely the result of a fifful frenzy. Blinder and more stupid is he who imagines that those who have been elevated to office on the wave of this protest can afford to forget it or ignore its significance. Those who pursue a course most harmonious with the unmistakable spirit of that protest, whether it be a majority of the Democrats or a majority of the Democrats or a majority of the Democrats or a majority of the Dolly Vardens, will insure the supremacy of their party in this State in the not distant hereafter. Stronger will be the party whose representatives are defeated than that whose representatives tives are elected by a formal coalition with the straight Republicans. By fidelity to the principles on which they were elected, by an unyielding respect for the plainly expressed voice of the people, our bemocratic representatives have in their power to disarm Miss Dolly Varden. By the contrary course they will clothe her with invincibility. If they have a proper regard for the welfare of the State and of their party—which we hold to be synonymous terms—our Democratic Assemblymen cannot afford to assist in any programme which which will elevate to the speakership or the chief clerkship, or officers in plain clothes. Not more than half a dozen persons recognized him.

'What is the meaning of that?' asked the reporter of the Police Sergeant.

'Well, this young fellow is paid $2 a day,' replied the officer, 'to perform this duty. All that he has to do is to take a carriage-ride from the Tombs to the court and back again. They do this because there's a feeling abroad that one of these fine days, especially if it looks are pledged to avenge the death of Jim Fisk. It is even said that there is a secret society among the Eric Railroad employes, and that, sooner or later, which we hold to be synonymous terms—our Democratic Assembly and the reporter of the Police Sergeant.

'Well, this young fellow is paid $2 a day,' replied the officer, 'to perform this duty. All that he has to do is to take a carriage-ride from the Tombs to the sendent of the planty. All that he has to do is to take a carriage-ride from the Tombs to t who pursue a course most harmonious their party—which we hold to be synonymous terms—our Democratic Assemblymen cannot afford to assist in any programme which which will elevate to the speakership or the chairmanship of any important committee, any man, even a Democrat, who is not sound, true and reliable on the vital questions which controlled the late elections. If, uncontrolled and untrammeled by outside influences, Democrata of this stamp are settled upon in a Democratic caucus, and are opposed by the Independents, and straight Republicans choose to give them an unconditional support, of course there could be no ground for rational objection. Republicans who retain any visitge of respect for public opinion will accept and appreciate this concession. Democrata who respect this concession. Democrats who respect public opinion can concede no more than asy particular success. One year, how-ever—the year before I painted 'The Cor-sican'—Lord Palmerston took a sudden fancy to my picture called 'Summer in the Lowlands,' and bought it at a high figure. His lordship at the same time time made inquiries after the artist, and time made inquiries after the artist, and invited me to call upon him. I waited upon his lordship accordingly. He complimented me upon the picture; but there was one thing about it he could not understand. 'What is that, my lord?' I asked. 'That there should be such long grass in the field where there are so

Yet the sapient New York police are determined to surround Stokes' case ALVA. C. BISHOP, M. D. S. L. LEE, M. D. by a romantic mystery that has no facti-tious basis. A Sergeant of City Hall po-lice, an old friend of the writer, called him aside this morning at half-pust nine o'clock, and took him to the back of the bim saide this morning at half-past nine o'clock, and took him to the back of the Court-house, where an immense concourse of people had assembled to witness the arrival of the prisoner. The steps of the Court-house and the yard adjoining were crowded with sensation mongers. "Here he comes!" cried some one in the crowd.

"A carriage, with a negro driver, in livery, drove up; out stepped an officer, then another officer, then a young man who marvelously resembles Stokes, but was not Stokes, and then a third officer. The crowd made a wild rush to get a glimpse of the young man in the light overcoat, but he was hurried into the Supreme Court Chamber, part 2, where his light overcoat was doffed and his services for the day ended. Meanwhile Stokes himself was ushered into Court by the park entrance, attended by two officers in plain clothes. Not more than half a dozen persons recognized him.
